Report Raps U.S. Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP)—A senior congressional Republican today agreed with a Kennedy adviser on the need to overhaul federal regulation agencies. But he said Congress, not the president, should do the revamping.

Rep. John B. Bennett of Michigan, ranking GOP member of the House Commerce Committee which deals with regulatory agencies, commented in an interview on a study made for President-elect John F. Kennedy by former Harvard Law School Dean James M. Landis.

Hails Landis Report

Kennedy hailed Landis' report issued Monday as "a most important and impressive analysis" which should be studied by "members of Congress as well as the agencies themselves."

Sen. John A. Carroll, D-Colo., chairman of a Senate subcommittee studying administrative practices, called for a drive against "powerful pressure groups" which he said have stymied agency reform. He said Kennedy will provide the leadership for change, and that the president-elect had invited him to confer on the Landis report.

Landis has served as chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Civil Aeronautics Board and on the Federal Trade Commission. These are among the seven major regulatory agencies he discussed in often biting terms.

Set Up By Congress

The so-called independent agencies have been set up by Congress over the years to regulate and hand down judgments on major economic activities.

Landis pictured the agencies as ridden by outside pressures, as too cozy with those whom they are supposed to regulate, as snarled in delays and slipping in caliber of personnel.

He accused both President Eisenhower and Truman of a lack of concern for the agencies, of appointing commissioners for political reasons rather than ability to do the job, and failing to avoid outside influences themselves on international air cases which are sent to the White House by the CAB.

Asks Reorganizations

Landis called for a series of reorganizations to be made by the new president under reorganization authority similar to that which he said Congress had granted to Eisenhower and Truman.

Bennett, however, said "what-ever reforms are needed ought to be legislated by Congress. One of the most important things is keeping these agencies independent."

It was an assignment from Kennedy that Landis surveyed the agencies, picked out what he considered their faults, and proposed remedies. The Civil Aeronautics Board, which Landis once headed, and the Federal Power, Communications and Interstate Com-

6 GOP Units File Campaign Cost Reports

Six Republican organizations that operated on a city and county level in the Nov. 8 general election campaign spent a total of $17,863, according to their sworn statements of expenses on file today with the County Election Board.

The largest expenditure — $12,461 — was reported by the Columbiana County Republican Central and Executive Committee. In addition, the committee wound up with a deficit of $536, according to the report filed by James Magill, treasurer.

The Columbiana County Republican Women's Council spent $3,266, according to a report filed by Mary Holman, chairman. The East Liverpool Republican Women's Club spent $924, it was shown in a report filed by Mrs. Audrey Newtz, president.

The Mid-Columbia Republican Club had expenses of $255, Phyllis Hamilton, treasurer, reported. The Columbiana County Volunteers for Nixon-Lodge spent $128, it was shown in a report filed by Richard Johnston of East Liverpool, chairman.

The East Liverpool Men's Republican Club reported expenses of $831. The form was filed by John E. Johnston, secretary-treasurer. The East Liverpool Democratic Central Committee spent $23, according to a report filed by James V. Flasco, chairman.

Friday at 4 p. m. was the deadline for the reports, which were required of all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and from committees that supported or opposed candidates or issues.

merce Commissions were particular targets.

But Landis said no cures would work as long as key positions were filled on the basis of "political reward rather than competency."

Kennedy appraised the report in a one sentence statement:

"This is a most important and impressive analysis of the regulatory agencies which deserves the attention of the members of Congress as well as the agencies themselves."

Nixon to Keep Hand In Politics

Will Seek Another Chance at Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon is getting set to practice politics, as well as law, when he goes back to California after his term ends Jan. 20.

Nixon, defeated for the presidency by a whisker, wants another shot at the prize in 1964. In the intervening time he is going to do everything possible to convince the Republican party it ought to give him another chance.

This will involve the maintenance of close contacts with Republican leaders in all sections of the nation. It will include speeches, public appearances and statements on national issues in his role as titular head of the party.

Beyond that, Nixon proposes to campaign vigorously for Republican candidates for the Senate and House in 1962. He figures if he can help Republicans win two years from now, he will broaden the base of his strength in bidding for a second nomination in 1964.

Because of the strong showing the vice president made in losing the election to Democratic Sen. John F. Kennedy by a popular vote margin of only about 112,000 ballots, Nixon believes he has a reservoir of built-in support among GOP Senate and House members elected this year.

Nixon's associates say the vice-president carried 228 congressional districts to Kennedy's 206, with independent electors winning 3 in Mississippi.

As of now, Nixon prefers campaigning for a Republican Congress to getting into the race for governor in California. He has not closed the door on that possibility.

Several factors are involved on both sides of this unsettled question. If he runs for governor, all of his campaigning will have to be in California and he will lose contacts with Republicans in other areas.

If he should run and be defeated, either in the primary or the general election, his political career would be over.

If he ran, Democrats would be certain to say he was seeking the governorship as a stepping stone to another presidential race. He would be questioned repeatedly if he intended to serve out a four-year term.

Blast of Icy Air Tumbles Temperatures

By The Associated Press
A blast of icy air from Canada spread into northern Midwest areas today, dropping temperatures to nearly 30 below zero in some places.

The frigid weather covered sections of the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin and was expected to envelop most of the north central region. Lower temperatures were in prospect for most of the Eastern half of the nation.

The mercury dropped to 29 below in Fargo, N.D., as the cold air mass moved across the snow-covered Midwest areas. It was -23 in Jamestown, N.D., and in International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian border. Grand Forks, N.D., reported -20.

Freezing weather extended over most sections of the Rockies and the central plateau eastward through the northern and central plains, the Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and into extreme northern New England.

Readings were in the 40s along coastal areas of the Atlantic and Pacific and were in the 50s in the Southwest desert region and most of the Gulf Coast. Florida reported temperatures in the 50s and 60s.

Kennedy Will Weekend at Rustic Virginia Site

Main house at Glen Ora is a rambling, French-provincial, two-story mansion of faded yellow stucco. There are six bedrooms and five baths. There's a guest house and a 50-23-foot swimming pool. Part of the house was built in the early 1800s.

F. D. R. had his Warm Springs;

Ike has his Gettysburg and now John F. Kennedy will establish his White House-away-from-the-White House at a rented Virginia estate. It is just a few miles from Manassas where Lincoln's Union troops got locked in their first battle and just 22 miles from Washington where President Kennedy will carry out his duties. Kennedy is renting Glen Ora from Mrs. Raymond Tartiere of Washington. The 400-acre estate—mostly rambling, wooded hills—is located one and a half miles south of Middletown, Va., in Fauquier County. On the outside, the buildings appear a bit weathered but the interiors are immaculate. There's room galore on the estate—space for all the Kennedys, for horseback riding, for exploring, for a helicopter and for the Secret Service, too.

Three persons were injured in three auto accidents in the city over the holiday weekend.

At the intersection of E. State St. and N. Union Ave. at 10:12 a. m. Sunday three passengers were injured in a two-car mishap when George W. Calvert, 56, of St. Clairsville was "blinded" by the sun and could not tell the color of the stop light and struck an auto operated by Charles M. Chappell, 63, of 284 Park St.

Injured in the Chappell vehicle were Edna Chappell, 61, who received lacerations on the right knee, right hand and chest and Jud Chappell, 16, who sustained a bruised left ankle.

Billy Gene Comer, 26, of 184 Jennings Ave. ran through a stop sign at the corner of Penn and E. Pershing St. at 11:50 p. m. Monday and struck an auto driven by Clyde Emery Miller, 33, of 447 Franklin St.

Holiday Traffic Fatal to 474

Toll 36 Beneath Estimate of 510

By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents over the long Christmas weekend took a heavy toll of lives, averaging six an hour, but it was below the pre-holiday estimate of 510.

The number killed in the three-day holiday period also may be the lowest for a comparable Christmas weekend in 11 years.

Safety experts were hopeful belated reports of traffic fatalities would hold the final count under last year's total of 493. That was the lowest toll for a three-day Christmas period since 1949 when the total was 413.

Deaths in traffic smashups slackened Monday night despite increased traffic as millions of motorists jammed highways heading for home from Christmas visits. Rain and ice made driving hazardous in some areas and the death rate dropped slightly.

The count at midnight (local time), at the end of the 78-hour holiday period which started at 6 p. m. Friday, showed 474 killed in motor vehicle accidents.

Fires also took a heavy toll, with 76 deaths reported compared to 43 for last year's Christmas weekend holiday. Various types of other accidents claimed the lives of 80 persons compared to 73 last Christmas for an over-all total of 630 violent deaths. Last Christmas the total was 609 accidents.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated a possible death toll of 510, said traffic fatalities would number 350 on a normal non-holiday weekend at this time of year. It estimates 340 persons may be killed during the three-day New Year holiday weekend.

An Associated Press survey of violent deaths for a 78-hour non-holiday weekend period earlier this month showed 293 traffic fatalities, 47 killed in fires and 113 killed in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 453.

Kennedy, Aides Confer On U.S. Space Program

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy and key advisers will deliver further today into planning for expansion and strengthening of this country's space program in the race with the Soviet Union.

Scheduled for more discussion, too, are State Department operations abroad.

Kennedy arranged another round of talks with Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., slated to succeed Johnson as chairman of the Senate Space Committee when the new Congress convenes next month. Also sitting in again will be Rep. John Rooney, D-S. Y., chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee which handles State Department funds.

Kennedy has announced that in the new administration Johnson will be chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Advisory Council.

The president-elect's discussions with Johnson, Kerr and Rooney began Monday afternoon. Secretary of the Treasury-designate Douglas Dillon, now serving in the Eisenhower administration as undersecretary of state was on hand for that session.

The talks recessed while Kennedy, Johnson and Dillon got in a round of golf at the Palm Beach Country Club. The president-elect also played during the morning.

After dinner at the Kennedy family's seaside home, the president-elect, Johnson, Kerr and Rooney went back to discussion of the space program and State Department operations.

The space program talks, it was announced in advance, dealt with rival civilian and military roles—and how the program can best be coordinated in the contest with the Soviet Union.

The discussion regarding State Department operations is understood to have centered on funds for diplomatic representation overseas.

Kennedy reportedly favors large expense allowances as one step toward bolstering America's diplomatic prestige and effectiveness.

After World War II, Congress approved an act that retained all five-star generals and admirals on active pay and duty as long as they lived. They also may have two military aides and office space in the Pentagon or elsewhere if they wish.

Only three other five-star permanent officers of World War II now survive. They are Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Omar Bradley and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

Congressional leaders of both parties are expected to cooperate in the legislation to restore Eisenhower's former military and pay status. They expect to sound out sentiment in both the Senate and House before making a public move.

Rudolph Lumsden, 42, of Youngstown and William F. Spooner, 33, of RD 5, Lisbon, collided on Rt. 7, one mile south of Youngstown at 5:10 p. m. Saturday.

Mrs. Geraldine Spooner, 32, his wife, received lacerations of the head when Lumsden lost control of his auto, went left of center and struck the Spooner auto.

Three vehicles were involved in a mishap at 7:50 p. m. Saturday, one mile north of Lisbon on Rt. 45, when a state highway dump truck, operated by Russell A. Barton, 60, of 348 Columbia St., Leetonia, was spreading cinders and an auto driven by Roger Hill, 18, of RD 5, Lisbon came over top of a hill and struck Burton in the rear. Hill then slid sideways into an auto operated by Myron L. Russell, 43, of East Liverpool.

Vona Russell, 56, of East Liverpool, a passenger in the Russell auto, received a bump on the head. Hill was cited for not stopping in the assured clear distance, the State Patrol said.

Two persons were injured when autos driven by Linn Dee Reardon, 33, of Mogadore and Leonard O. Grossman, 18, of Salineville, collided at 8:30 p. m. Saturday, two miles south of Lisbon on Rt. 30.

Reardon received lacerations of the nose and possible fracture of the head when Grossman attempted to pass another car and lost control and slid into Reardon.

James Richards, 21, of Salineville, a passenger in the Grossman auto, sustained lacerations of the head and was taken to Salem City hospital with Reardon.

Grossman was cited for going left of center.

A passenger was injured when an auto driven by Troy N. Beaver Jr., 17, of New Philadelphia and Samuel J. Torella, 23, of Lowellville collided two miles east of Poland on Rt. 224 at 8:45 p. m. Saturday.

Mrs. Margaret Beaver, 44, of New Philadelphia, riding in the Beaver auto, received possible head injuries and was taken to South Side Hospital.

Jean A. Krauss, 43, of 274 Lundy St., failed to stop for a stop sign and slid in the snow off the side of the road at 5:35 p. m. Monday on Alternate Rt. 14, east of Salem.

She was not injured, the Patrol said.

Ralph Pandoff, 44, of Struthers and Phillip C. Milone, 42, of New Castle, Pa., collided at 8:05 p. m. Sunday on Rt. 422 near Campbell. Milone was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance when he struck the Pandoff vehicle in the rear, which was waiting for an auto to make a turn.

Crop Storage Building Hit By Blaze

Earl Patterson, Franklin Square potato grower, and his insurance adjuster will meet Wednesday to determine loss from a fire that struck Patterson's potato storage building Christmas Day.

The tile block building contained Patterson's 1960 crop valued at between $15,000 and $20,000. Mrs. Patterson said there will be some water and smoke damage but the extent has not been determined. Both building and crop are insured.

Leetonia and Washingtonville fire departments were called about 9 a. m. after the Pattersons' daughter, Barbara, 7, saw smoke pouring from the storage building ventilator.

The fire was in straw-type insulation sealed in the roof. Firemen were able to keep the flames from breaking through the roof, using water from the Pattersons' private lake near by.

Patterson had a small oil burner in the building to take the chill off. However, the heater was cold, he said, when he checked it after Barbara saw the smoke.

The Patterson farm is located one mile south of Franklin Square on the Lisbon Road.

Princess Margaret, Mate May Be Sent to Bahamas

LONDON (AP)—A close friend of the royal family said today that Queen Elizabeth II is considering appointing Princess Margaret governor of the Bahamas.

It could be a happy solution to a delicate and increasingly uneasy situation, what to do with Margaret and more particularly, her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones has been unemployed for the last seven months since his marriage into the royal family.

Her friends say Margaret and her husband are not pleased at the thought of spending the rest of their lives in a glittering whirl of social events and a near puppet-like existence in the purple shadows of the British throne.

Margaret will be 31 next Aug. 21. Armstrong-Jones will be 31 on March 7. Both are active, adept in the social graces and talented.

By tradition, members of the royal family and their spouses don't go into business, commerce, or engage in the arts for profit.

So Armstrong-Jones gave up a highly profitable and promising career as a photographer.

If Margaret became governor of the jewel-like British crown colony in the Atlantic off the Florida coast, her husband would naturally share her life. It could be a busy one.

The Bahamas annually earn millions of pounds and dollars as a tourist attraction. With Margaret and Tony established in government house in Nassau, the Bahamas would earn many millions more.

The appointment of a member of the royal family as governor and commander in chief of the Bahamas would set no royal precedent.

When the Duke of Windsor and his American-born wife were in much the same position as Margaret and Tony—in that they had very little to do officially—King George VI made the duke the governor of the Bahamas.

The Duke served from 1940 to 1945.

MOSCOW (AP)—The newspaper Soviet Russia suggested today that it is time President-elect John F. Kennedy answered Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's statement that the Soviet Union wants to improve relations with the United States.

The paper printed foreign comment from various neutralist and Socialist newspapers praising Gromyko's statement last week to the Supreme Soviet and demanding that Kennedy respond.

BULLET IS REMOVED

LISBON — Neal R. Spaid, 37, of Reservoir Road near East Palestine, is in fair condition in Salem City Hospital following surgery Saturday night for removal of a .22 caliber rifle slug from his chest. Spaid apparently shot himself, according to Deputy Sheriff Ronnie Gause who investigated after being notified by East Palestine police.

ROTARIANS SEE MOVIE

A film, "Highlights of the Cleveland Browns' 1959 Season," was shown when Rotary Club members met at noon today at the Memorial Building. Atty. Earl Miller was program chairman.

MAINTAINING A TURNPIKE — What does it cost to keep a modern toll road in good shape the year round? Well, the New York State Thruway Authority spent $4,673,739 in 1959. Far and away the biggest item for the 480-mile road was snow and ice control (see Newschart). For example, during the 1959-60 winter season, 53,522 tons of salts and 50,000 tons of abrasives were used to make the pavement safe for the 60 m.p.h. limit. Turnpike authorities say these steps and others help the road maintain a safety record far above the national average.

Time Selects U.S. Scientists 'Man of Year'

NEW YORK (AP)—Time magazine's "Man of the Year" for 1960 is plural: America's scientists.

Time said the work of the scientists in 1960 "shapes the life of every human presently inhabiting the planet, and will influence the destiny of generations to come."

The magazine selected 15 scientists to epitomize the work of all. They were:

Robert Woodward, Harvard Nobel Prize-winner; Charles Stark Draper, aeronautics and astronautics teacher at Massachusetts Institute of Technology; William Shockley, Nobel Prize-winner and one of the creators of the transistor; Emilio Segre, Nobel Prize-winner and nuclear physicist.

John F. Enders, who works with polio viruses; Charles Townes, microwave specialist; George W. Beadle, head of the California Institute of Technology biology department; James Van Allen, a leader in exploration of radiation in space; Edward Purcell, Nobel Prize-winner for "nuclear resonance" work; Edward Teller, major developer of the H-bomb; Wilfor Libby, Nobel Prize winner for radioactive carbon dating work; Isidor I. Rabi, Nobel Prize-winner in molecular physics; Linus Pauling, Nobel Prize-winner for work on atoms; Joshua Lederberg, Nobel Prize-winner for work with bacteria; and Donald Glaser, Nobel Prize-winner for inventing a method of photographing atomic particles.

Man Wounded, Held After Gun Battle

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Phillip Brown's mother-in-law has signed an affidavit charging him with shooting with intent to kill her daughter and her uncle. Brown, 31-year-old father of three from Linworth, is in critical condition at a Columbus hospital with three chest wounds received in a Christmas Eve shooting at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Everett Griffith, 47, near Milford Center.

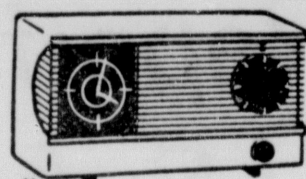

Authorities say Brown wounded his estranged wife, Betty, 29, in both arms with a 12-gauge shotgun and beat Mrs. Griffith with the gun stock when she tried to wrest the weapon from him. Then Brown was wounded himself in an exchange of gunfire with Mrs. Griffith's uncle, Shade Miller, 65, who came to the women's aid with a pistol. Miller was grazed by a shotgun blast.

'Tis the Day After Christmas

There aren't many winter holidays to begin with, and it isn't often that they come in two-day packages. The blessing may be viewed with mixed emotions.

There are nice things about the second day of Christmas:

Starting with the assumption that most people don't travel on winter holidays as they do on summer ones, there is the pleasant prospect of spending a quiet day in the coziness of home enjoying the afterglow of a happy, joyful Christmas.

It's a time for taking a second, longer look at the gifts that came your way, discovering bonus qualities about them that were overlooked in the excitement of unwrapping time.

It's a time for devoting those long-sought extra hours to the children, showing them how to play their new games, helping them to work the more complicated of their new toys.

It's a time for nibbling at the delights of holiday food without the hustle and formality of a table feast.

It's a time for reveries inspired by the pretty lights and glittering balls on the Christmas tree, whose beauty you didn't really get to enjoy in the rush of last-minute, pre-Christmas chores.

It's a time for snoozing in the afternoon, content with the world's blessing and convinced that the spirit of Christmas peace is the most wonderful thing that can happen to a man.

On the other hand, there are some drawbacks to the second day of Christmas:

Starting with the assumption that most people don't travel on winter holidays as they do on summer ones, there is the unpleasant prospect that Christmas Day protracted into double length can be too much of a good thing.

It's a time for taking a second, longer look at the gifts that came your way, hating the thought of exchanging the wrong-size items, trying to overlook the flaws and wondering where to store the duplicates and the useless.

It's a time for trying to control the tempers of tired, cross children, attempting to make sense out of the written rules with their new games and resisting the temptation to blow your own top if one more complicated toy disintegrates into a pile of junk.

It's a time for searching the medicine cabinet for something to cure the dyspepsia caused by too much rich food and fighting off the distributors of leftover tidbits that have lost their attractiveness.

It's a time for wondering whether to bother with the burned-out lights, broken ornaments and fallen tinsel on the Christmas tree, or just take the thing down because it's nothing but a fire hazard, anyway.

It's a time for wishing the children would be quiet just long enough to permit you an afternoon snooze to escape the recurring thought that it's a good thing Christmas comes only once a year.

Well, it may not be as good as the former or as bad as the latter, but make the best of it. It isn't often that Christmases come in two-day packages.

Return to Politics

By DAVID LAWRENCE

New Administration Throwback to Truman Days

It has often been said around Washington that the Eisenhower administration has not played politics enough. Before long, however, comments may be heard that the Kennedy administration is doing just the opposite — playing politics too much.

Certainly the high hopes of many observers that the selfish game of politics would be submerged, if not suppressed, in this critical period of world history, were somewhat dampened by the announcement issued by President-elect Kennedy at Palm Beach, saying he had offered "a high position in the Defense Department" to former Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi.

It so happens that Mr. Coleman declined, but evidently it was regarded as good politics to publicize the offer. In fact, its significance was emphasized by Mr. Coleman himself when he frankly said afterward that he was "more grateful for the offer as recognition to the State of Mississippi" than to himself.

Former Gov. Coleman did yeoman service for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the last campaign. But the people of Mississippi gave more votes to the unpledged electors — who cast their ballots in the Electoral College for Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia — than they did to regular Democratic nominees.

SOMEHOW it is considered important by the Kennedy managers to show the faithful politicians in Mississippi that federal obs will be forthcoming to them just the same.

What is surprising is the bold way in which this piece of politics was played. One would think things like this would be relegated to the Democratic national chairman or a state chairman to handle but the desire to give the episode wide publicity undoubtedly prompted the President-elect to take a hand, as he himself issued the following statement:

"Secretary of defense-designate Robert S. McNamara met the day before yesterday in Jackson, Miss., with Mississippi's former governor, James P. Coleman. Mr. McNamara offered Mr. Coleman a high position in the Defense Department. It was felt that Mr. Coleman's proven executive ability would have been a great asset to the Defense Department. Gov. Coleman reluctantly turned down the offer, feeling it was impossible for him to leave Mississippi at this time."

The foregoing will lead lots of people to suspect that various tenders of public office have recently been made by Mr. Kennedy more as political gestures than as bona fide offers.

There is, for instance, the case of Rep. William L. Dawson, D-Ill., a Negro who is chairman of the House Committee on Governmental Operations. Mr. Kennedy during the campaign was quick to throw a political barb at Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican candidate for the vice presidency, because the latter said in a public speech that Mr. Nixon, if elected, would name a Negro to the Cabinet.

THE DEMOCRATIC presidential candidate piously proclaimed that he would not stoop to such politics, and that his appointments to the Cabinet would not be made because of considerations of race or creed or sex or color but solely on the basis of efficiency and ability.

When Rep. Dawson declined the offer to be postmaster general, he gave as his reason that his age — 74 years — would not permit him to engage in such executive duties as the post required. Mr. Kennedy must have known beforehand about the age of the Illinois congressman. Certainly he could not persuasively argue that he looked throughout the whole United States to find the most efficient man he could get for postmaster general and finally decide on a 74-year-old member of the House — who just happened to be a Negro.

The truth, of course, is that, just as it was supposed to be smart politics for Henry Cabot Lodge to talk during the campaign about the prospective appointment of a Negro to the Cabinet, so it is considered good politics now in preparation for the 1964 re-election campaign to say to the Negro voters of America that Mr. Kennedy actually offered a Negro the portfolio of postmaster general.

PLAYING POLITICS with the Post Office Department is an old story but the new frontiers of politics now evidently also cover the Department of Defense.

It will be recalled that James Forrestal — first man to be secretary of defense — earned the disfavor of President Truman when he refused to participate in the 1948 political campaign because he felt that the Department of Defense should be kept out of politics. Apparently there is a throwback now to the Truman days as "a high position in the Defense Department" is offered to a state political leader for the obvious purpose of paying a political debt.

Powerful Pressure Bloc

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Since the election, tremendous pressure has been exerted upon Sen. Kennedy to recognize the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association by giving an appointment to Clyde T. Ellis, the creator and master of that important pressure group.

The aim of Ellis was first to get the secretaryship of the interior. But that designation went to another advocate of public power, Congressman Udall. Then Ellis lowered his sights to the under secretaryship of the department. At this writing, the post has not been filled.

Perhaps Ellis will be passed over and later given another job. But it is certain that the formidable power of Ellis and his organization will be a major policy-determining factor in the Interior Department in years to come.

Both the Democratic platform and Sen. Kennedy himself are committed to greater extension of the government into the production and distribution of electricity.

Ellis operates his association under the banner of representing the farmers' interests and claims that he speaks for all the vast numbers who pay dues to his NRECA. Because of the freedom with which loans are extracted from the Federal Rural Electrification Administration and the monopolistic position of many rural cooperatives, vast reserves have been built up. Any member of Congress who fails to vote as Ellis orders feels the weight of his influence.

He has been working for vast federal power projects from Pasmagquoddy to the presently promoted Rampart Dam on the Yukon River in Alaska.

HOWEVER, in the course of his activities he has made enemies and one of them is Sen. Lyndon Johnson. Back in 1948 Johnson was angered at the pressure exerted by Ellis in behalf of the confirmation of Leland Olds as a member of the Federal Power Commission. The confirmation lost in the Senate by a vote of 53 to 15.

Speaking before a regional conference of the NRECA, Johnson said: "Because of one man's endorsement, REA co-ops were associated permanently with a propaganda campaign with which the REA should not have been involved. I tell you sincerely: You have a bigger job than to serve as a tool of the . . . propagandists who want you to fight their battles for them." It may well be that the vice president-elect's opposition will prevail with the President-elect on his appointment.

Since the Interior Department is supposed to represent the national interest rather than that of public power minorities, however powerful they may be, it is to be hoped that Ellis can be kept out of the new administration.

ELLIS CAME OUT of Bentonville, Ark. and was elected to Congress during the Roosevelt administration. He was defeated for reelection but he remained in Washington and founded and built up what is now the most powerful pressure organization for public power in the nation.

Many a congressman and senator has yielded to the Ellis pressure. As a result, he has succeeded in keeping for the electric cooperatives a 2 per cent rate on loans from the federal government, despite the higher cost of money to the government itself. President Eisenhower has unsuccessfully sought to raise the loan rate.

How to Treat the Common Slump

The title of this particular article was: "What To Do About Business Recessions." This one was moderate. It did not advocate radical surgery or horse-doctor dosages.

But not all the articles that will be coming along about the recession will be moderate. Some will be so extreme that if they were to be taken seriously they would start a panic.

There is one point of view in the United States which holds that the best time to get galloping socialism into motion is an economic slump, when sales resistance to economic quackery is low.

Gallopers pop out of the woodwork every time there's a business recession. They are eager to spring into action. They want to change things around to suit themselves while everybody's busy with other matters.

Every one of the gallopers has another panacea—another painless cure, guaranteed to make man or beast feel better fast, with no unpleasant after-effects.

They are imbued with the philosophy that human beings and national economies should operate full time at top speed and that anything short of this is a sign of sickness, calling for emergency treatment.

They reject the philosophy that normalcy does not require an everlasting boom to justify its acceptance. They have no use for the theory that one of the most important things to do in a recession is to refrain from doing anything that will shake confidence in the long-range stability on which all economic commitments must be built.

There is a saying among those who suffer from the common cold that it will last just as long if it's treated as it will if the patient keeps his feet dry and waits for it to cure itself.

There is a feeling among those who suffer from recessions that they will last just as long if doctored by political quacks as if let alone.

Something Like Old Times

They don't laugh in Detroit any more when George Romney sits down to play the piano.

He showed he could read music when he saw the demand for compact cars while the rest of the industry was making wisecracks. He brought American Motors out of the woods and into the clear with the first U.S.-made compacts. Romney started a revolution. His newest idea is revolutionary, too.

He is proposing to give his company's customers a rebate of one $25 U.S. government saving bond for every 10 per cent increase in the company's sales, up to a limit of $125. This would give every buyer a sense of helping a production enterprise in which he had a personal stake.

It also would give every buyer a sense of helping to give the national economy a shot in the arm but that is incidental to the main idea. George Romney is a salesman—one of the best.

What he has proposed is something like old times.

We learned to buy automobiles in this country when the biggest idea in industry was Henry Ford's mass-production - mass-consumption equation.

The more cars he could build, reasoned the first Ford, the less he needed to charge for them. He had to pass along to his customers the savings of mass production so there would be mass consumption. It was a wonderful idea. It started the auto era.

But it got lost in the shuffle when auto industry and its organized workers began to pocket more of the proceeds for themselves, instead of passing them back to the public in lower prices. Inflation complicated things, but the main complication was abandonment of Henry Ford's original plan to pay high wages, make cars like doughnuts and share the savings with his customers.

It looks to us as if George Romney has decided that Henry Ford had something too good to pass up.

One night recently there gathered at the Washington home of Arthur Goldberg, some 22 dinner guests most of whom could make national headlines on their own. Dorothy Goldberg lit candles. There were moments of silence during the prayers. Then a hubbub of "amens" from such close friends of the new secretary of labor as Monsignor George Higgins, Jim Mitchell and George Meany.

Goldberg looked at the guests later that evening and turned to such Republicans as Jim Mitchell, Joe Finnegan, federal mediation chief, Alex Rose, Liberal party leader—and told the assembled labor specialists:

"I'll count on you to help me create a new era of good will between industry and labor."

At that moment, hundreds of miles distant, auto union leaders were dispersing in Detroit for their flights home.

THEY HAD BEEN meeting most of the week with Walter Reuther and second-in-command Emil Mazey, in International Executive Board sessions.

Many thought they would win up their parleys with "secret" demands on the Big Three auto companies fully formulated. Nothing definite had been decided.

They agreed to convene again late in January. This will be the first of a series of meetings winding up in a national "convention" in April. Then we'll know what the auto union wants and probably the attitude of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Then, we'll also know if we are heading for a steel-toe marathon strike just at the moment when the economists say we're due to spring from the recession.

ONE PROPOSAL being urged on him comes from the leaders of American Motors. Its president, George Romney, is a high member of the Mormon church. Its vice president, Ed Cushman, is a Quaker and an active churchman.

It is their suggestion that the lead in bringing national labor and industrial leaders together be taken by Protestant, Catholic and Jewish clergymen.

They do not believe that a National Labor and Management

Push-Button Living

By JEAN WILSON

Those magic push buttons which have mechanized kitchens and laundry rooms during the past decade promise to revolutionize bedrooms during the next.

In fact man—and woman, too—may soon be able to attend to the chores of the day without ever getting out of bed.

G. W. Wallin preaches such a dreamy (or nightmarish) existence. This director of an engineering firm which pioneered electric blankets bases his predictions on mechanical feats already achieved in this country's laboratories.

Push button bedside facilities presently shed light, provide warmth, perk coffee, brown toast, remove beards and switch on and off the radio or TV.

But Wallin says tomorrow's bedside control panels will be equipped with two separate wake up systems, one for work-a-day weeks, the other for sleep-late weekends.

The commuter family version will get children up, start the showers or bath water, set facilities in motion for cooking breakfast. Another set of buttons meanwhile will warm up the car and, in case of snow, heat and free the ice in driveways.

The weekend control system will be more relaxed. Wallin claims. Draperies will not automatically open until later in the morning.

Matter of Fact

The people of ancient Rome had little faith in the vicious, half-baked Emperor Nero. When Rome was desolated by a terrible fire, people said that Nero seized on it as the ideal setting for one of his performances. He reportedly sang about the destruction of Troy, "comparing present misfortunes with the calamities of antiquity." Try as he might, Nero never lived that rumor down. A couple of thousand years later, every school-boy knows that "Nero fiddled while Rome burned."

SIDE GLANCES

"Are you looking for something you like or something that's in style?"

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

"The Lord is my Shepherd" will always mean more than "My dictator is hot stuff." "He leadeth me beside still waters" will always give mankind more confidence than "The premier is out with a new 20 Year Plan." And no pronouncement of any governmental wonder boys anywhere will seem as safe to tie to as "Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me."

Through the ages man has worshipped a Supreme Being. His faith has been his greatest solace in heavy going. When any ruler starts playing rough with him in this respect he is taking the losing end.

The dictator who makes it dangerous to kneel at an altar railing is going off the deep end, and the Free World may be getting its best break if the Soviet Union tries to throw an Iron Curtain between man and his God.

The more Russia fights religion, the less its chance for survival. People are pretty much alike down deep inside, regardless of nationality, climate, location, programs, speeches and ideologies.

The prayer that gives comfort to a mother anywhere else gives comfort to her in Russia. In the shadows cast by the flickering light of cathedral candles a Moscow family sees the holy figures seen by a family in Wappingers Falls or Chillicothe.

Khrushchev can deride a prayer book or a string of Rosary beads but he has nothing in his program capable of giving people as much hope and peace.

He can scoff at the sign of the Cross but the hammer and sickle will, in the long run, never come even close.

The Soviet drive against religion is concentrated on youth. This may get somewhere at first but the kids will, in time, sense what is missing from their lives, and it won't be pictures of a revere in Red Square. When trial and tribulation come they will seek the comfort that comes through the Bible.

The glory of Christmas, the music of chapel bells, the lips of a mother moving in prayer and the matchless chronicles of the old and new testaments will always have the edicts of dictators licked to a frazzle in the final returns. Faith is too permanent for the veto.

BEN ATWOOD SMITH, who takes Sen. Kennedy's seat, comes out of Gloucester, famed for its whalers, cod fishermen and other hardy seagoing men. He was once Gloucester mayor and should be at home in rough seas when the ship of state is pitching. His family founded Gorton codfish business, whose billboards were among earliest roadside and meadow advertisements. Smith was at Harvard with Kennedy and played on the football team. He has won tuna fishing championships and can enliven Washington with tales of the big ones that got away.

New Jersey high court has upheld conviction of the woman who hogged party phone and wouldn't let a doctor put through call for ambulance. This should be a warning to the type, widely known to all phone users.

Jet plane 11 miles off course, as alleged in recent frightful collision, means that there was too little time involved "in the pinch." Jets make over 500 miles an hour and reduce to only 230 when "stacking," probbers say.

France Explodes 3rd Atomic Device

PARIS (AP)—France successfully exploded her third experimental atomic device in the Sahara Desert today.

The test apparently was a step forward in cutting down the first two devices—exploded last Feb. 13 and April 1—to practical size for use in varied weapons. The Defense Ministry said today's explosion was "of small strength."

No details of the device were given, but the announcement said the shot took place "within the framework of the French military atomic program" at 7:30 a. m. and was a success.

The test apparently was above the surface, contrary to expectations that France would explode her next atomic instrument below ground.

The test may have been delayed to come after the adjournment of the U. N. General Assembly. Almost all the independent states of Africa have protested the French tests at Reggane, a desert area 1,500 miles south of Oran, Algeria.

The third test was one more step in President Charles de Gaulle's determined drive to gain France a voice in the exclusive "atomic club"—so far confined to the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union.

With the third explosion, he may now be able to claim U. S. aid in atomic development with more force. The U. S. McMahon act limits the sharing of American nuclear secrets to friendly nations that have made substantial progress in their own development. Previously only Britain qualified.

Officers of the Italian Club will take office at a luncheon installation Jan. 8.

The officers, elected at a recent meeting, are:

President, Frank Zamarelli; vice president, Sam Caporella; financial secretary, Dominic Parolanti; treasurer, John Migliarini; secretary of correspondence, George Equizi; first trustee, Joe Pastorelli; second trustee, Joe Zamarelli; third trustee, Valentino Ciotti; and sergeant-at-arms, Dominic DiAntonio.

WANTS IN ACADEMY

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Martin L. Griffith, 19, was turned down for entrance into the U. S. Naval Academy because his teeth didn't meet. So last October he checked into a Detroit hospital and surgeons broke his jutting jaw to correct the condition.

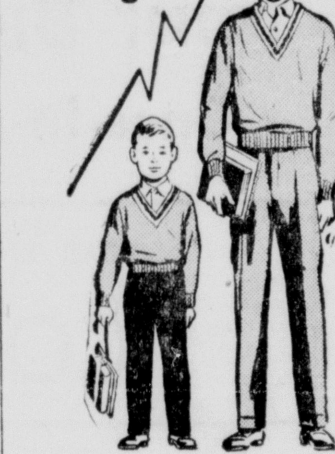

Last week the wiring and other surgical instruments on his jaw were removed. And Monday his congressman, Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, nominated him again to the academy. If accepted, the Springfield youth would become a midshipman next fall.

U.S. senators have individual seats assigned to them in Congress. Seats are assigned on request in order of seniority.

Fair play for fowls: If you call someone "silly as a goose," you are misleading yourself. . . . Ornithologists consider the goose an intelligent and resourceful bird.

Worst pun of the year: Actor Walter Slezak recalls the strip-tease dancer who was making her debut and froze with stage fright. . . . From the wings came a loud month.

Mrs. Wesley Ritchey

Miss Ruth Hartford Becomes Bride of Wesley A. Ritchey

Before a mantle banked with ferns, evergreens and holly accented with red poinsettias and lighted tapers in candelabra, Miss Ruth Margaretta Hartford became the bride of Wesley Allen Ritchey on Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of her parents.

Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Vernon Duke presented nuptial music at the organ, and Miss Virginia White of Cleveland, soloist, sang the "Wedding Prayer" and "Through the Years."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Elmer Hartford of E. Lincoln Way and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Clayton Ritchey and the late Mr. Ritchey of Fitchville, O.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white satin pique and a long train. The princess line bodice featured a scoop neckline and was enhanced with lace, seed pearls and sequins. A bolero jacket of lace with Peter Pan collar and bracelet length sleeves completed her ensemble. Her only jewelry was pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

A crown of seed pearls and sequins held her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion. She carried an arrangement of white sweetheart roses and lily of the valley with cascading streamers.

Mrs. Frederick F. Mattix of Salem was her sister's only attendant and wore a gown of American Beauty peau-de-soie fashioned with a scoop neckline, cap sleeves and a bell shaped skirt of street length. Her shoes matched her gown, and her bouquet was of white poinsettias.

Edward B. Hartford, brother of the bride, served as best man. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hartford chose an emerald green silk dress with a corsage of white carnations, and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue dress complemented with a white rose corsage.

A reception for some 50 guests followed the ceremony. The home was beautifully decorated throughout in the holiday theme and the bride's table in white with a floor length overlay of light green net was centered with a three-tier wedding cake and a lovely floral arrangement of red poinsettias and holly. White candles in crystal, a crystal punch bowl and silver coffee service completed the setting planned by Mrs. Al Burson.

Friends of the bride who served were Mrs. Donald Loutzenhiser of Philadelphia, Mrs. Donald Jerry of New London and Mrs. Hugh Criss of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Wayne Calhoun registered guests from New Castle, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, Pa., Youngstown, Lorain, Columbus, Salem, New London, Cleveland and Lisbon.

For a honeymoon trip to Cincinnati, the bride wore an orchid and green embroidered sheer wool sheath dress, tapestry shoes, a frothy net beige hat and carried an iridescent green beaded bag. The rose corsage from her bridal bouquet completed her attire.

A graduate of Ohio University, Mrs. Ritchey also attended the University of Wyoming on a Coe Fellowship. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority and is a teacher in the high school at New London.

Her husband received his B.S. degree at the University of Cincinnati and his Master's degree at St. Xavier of Cincinnati.

A member of Delta Tau Delta Fraternity, he served two years in the Army as a lieutenant in artillery. He is a teacher and assistant coach, also in the New London High School.

Following their honeymoon, they will be at home after Jan. 1 at 138 E. Main St., New London.

Mrs. Harold Babb; September. Mrs. Robert Hass; Mrs. Jack Hovis; October, Mrs. Earle Johnson, Mrs. Gerald Shasteen; November, Mrs. Harry Sherwood, Mrs. Marion DeBow; December, Mrs. William Weber, Mrs. Roy Merrell. Mrs. Frank Huber conducted the devotions, using the theme, "What Can I Give Him?"

"The Swinging Symphonettes" played "Toy and Tinsel Overture," "Nativity Overture," "O Holy Night," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," and "Away in a Manger." The group is composed of Joe Horning, leader and pianist; Ben Smith, saxophone; Lee Schnell, clarinet; Dick Izenour, trumpet; Jerry Coalmer, cornet; Karl Fieldhouse, trombone; Candy Horning, string bass; and Dennis Beery, drums.

Rev. Bruce Milligan sang "How Great Thou Art" and told the background of the hymn. A trio composed of Mrs. Frank Huber, Mrs. Charles Tomlinson and Mrs. Curtis Vaughan sang "Going to Bethlehem" and "Ring Bells in the Steeple."

Group singing of "Silent Night" closed the program.

Three Involved In Youngstown Fatal Beating to be Paroled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Almost 13 years ago, Cyril L. Runk and a friend were walking along a Youngstown sidewalk when a group of youths approached from the opposite direction. Runk and his companion stepped aside.

But, Pardon and Parole Commission records show, there was a slight jostling, a few words, and then Runk was swirled into the group, punched, knocked to the ground and kicked. He died from injuries received that day, April 22, 1948.

Today, the commission announced that three of the men involved—all convicted of second-degree murder—will be paroled from London Correctional Institution about Jan. 26. The three, all received Dec. 10, 1948 and all from Youngstown, are James W. Hardret, 30; George Williams, 28, and John Williams, 30.

Commission records show that three others were convicted in the beating, two for second-degree murder and one for manslaughter. Two have already been paroled and one is at Lima State Hospital.

Other paroles from London, announced today and effective Jan. 26, are:

Robert Stewart, 71, Cleveland, received March 10, 1937 for first-degree murder in the Dec. 25, 1936 shooting of Herbert Parrell. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle commuted the sentence to second-degree murder Nov. 15.

J. B. Belcher, 50, Dayton, received Nov. 6, 1950 for second-degree murder in the Aug. 27, 1950 shooting of Leslie Williams.

Richard Holder Jr., 33, Middletown, received Feb. 1, 1956 for manslaughter in the Nov. 28, 1955 shooting of his wife Eloise in what he said was an accident.

William Leonard, 56, Cleveland, received Jan. 11, 1958 for manslaughter in the Sept. 13, 1957 shooting of his wife in what he said was an accident.

William Leonard, 56, Cleveland, received Jan. 11, 1958 for manslaughter in the Sept. 13, 1957 shooting of Ralph Jones.

James Taylor, 57, Piqua, received Jan. 30, 1959 for manslaughter in the shooting of George Peites on Nov. 2, 1958.

Norman Woodgeard, 31, Dayton, received Jan. 16, 1960 for manslaughter in the shooting of his wife Jane on July 26, 1958.

William Rothrock, 56, Cincinnati received Jan. 18, 1955 for manslaughter in the shooting of John Smith during a quarrel in a restaurant.

Curtis Alexander, 28, Dayton, received Feb. 1, 1955 for manslaughter in the beating of Dr. Charles R. Price.

Kennedy Top '60 Headliner

EDITOR'S NOTE
The Newsmakers of the year selections are made in strict accordance with the ballots returned by the 3,800 radio and newspaper members of The Associated Press. News editors at asked annually to vote on the "top news personalities" of the year. Votes do not necessarily mean support or approval of the winners' policies or actions. The ballot does identify the men who made the news of 1960 in their respective fields.

By CHARLES STAFFORD
AP Newsfeatures Writer

John Fitzgerald Kennedy has won again.

News editors of Associated Press members newspapers and radio and television stations across the nation have chosen the youngest President-elect in the nation's history as "Newsmaker of 1960."

His election in the poll was by a much wider margin than in the presidential balloting.

Nikita Khrushchev, the Soviet prime minister who made plenty of headlines of another sort, came in second in the editors' judgment.

Newsman chased in the wake of the tumbled senator from Massachusetts almost from the moment the year began as he fought against odds for the presidency.

The trail took them into the hills of heavily-Protestant West Virginia where Roman Catholic Kennedy won an impressive primary election victory over Sen. Hubert Humphrey. It took them to Los Angeles where he gained the Democratic nomination over the opposition of prominent leaders in his own party, including President Harry Truman and the man who became his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

It took them backstage as he argued campaign issues with his opponent, Vice President Richard Nixon, in the historic television debates. It took them, in fact, into most of the 50 states in one of the mostly widely-traveled campaigns of all time.

Kennedy's victory, in its closeness one of the most exciting in the nation's history, sent to the White House the youngest elected President in history and the first Roman Catholic.

KHRUSHCHEV, the unpredictable Russian premier and last year's top newsmaker, had to settle this year for first place in the foreign affairs category.

And, indeed, Khrushchev had a busy year; promoting a summit conference, getting it, and then breaking it up before it got started in his anger over the American U-2 spy plane incident. He broke into headlines again with his visit to the United Nations General Assembly meeting where he (1) groused bitterly over his confinement to New York City, (2) proposed anew his old disarmament plan, (3) demanded reorganization of the United Nations, and (4) pounded his desk with his shoe in protest during a speech by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

OTHER WINNERS in the Associated Press survey of its 3,800 newspaper, radio and television members were: Religion, Pope John XXIII; business and industry, George Romney; science, Werner Von Braun; labor, James Hoffa; literature, Allen Drury; entertainment, the late Clark Gable, and sports, Floyd Patterson.

Pope John won the religion category for the third straight year but it was a rather narrow victory over evangelist Billy Graham. The Pope made headlines with his early December meeting with the Rev. Geoffrey Fisher, archbishop of Canterbury, head of the Anglican Church, and spiritual adviser to Britain's Queen Elizabeth Graham took his Crusade for Christ to Africa.

George Romney, president of American Motors, is also a third-year winner in business and industry, thanks to the continued success of his firm. Romney in 1960 saw his advocacy of compactness in American automobiles gain even more converts.

GERMAN-BORN Werner Von Braun won the balloting in the science category for the fourth straight year. This adopted son of the United States has become a symbol of the nation's space program.

The labor winner, Jimmy Hoffa, was in and out of the news all year in his running feud with the government monitors supervising the affairs of his Teamsters Union. Near year's end, he was indicted on a charge of mail fraud.

"Advise and Consent," a fascinating novel of the United States Senate at work, won the literature division for author Allen Drury. Drury's book was at or near the top of the best seller list from the beginning of the year to the end.

Death came to Clark Gable, and newsmen regarded his death as the end of an era in motion pictures. Partly in recognition of

POPE JOHN XXIII

SCIENCE
WERNER VON BRAUN

LITERATURE

SPORTS
FLOYD PATTERSON

this, they named the durable movie actor, long a box office favorite, newsmaker of the year in entertainment.

Floyd Patterson's knockout of Ingemar Johansson to regain the heavyweight boxing crown also gave him the title of top newsmaker in sports. But it was a close decision over Casey Stengel, who regained the American League pennant and lost his job as manager of the New York Yankees.

Senior Citizens Observe Birthday, Install Officers

Senior Citizens Club celebrated its fourth anniversary with a dinner dance recently in the Memorial Building, where the club holds its regular meetings the fourth Wednesday of the month and "drop in" sessions on other Wednesdays.

New officers installed for the coming year are: President, Ray Beck; vice president, Carl Burcaw, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lucille Nickolson; recording secretary, Mrs. Frank McConner; and treasurer, Homer Hilliard.

George Dressel gave the invocation when the 165 in attendance were seated at table decorated with candles, artificial flower arrangements and decorated pine cones made by the members in their craft classes.

Two Christmas trees and several smaller ones on the stage were decorated with ornaments made by the club members.

Favors were snowmen made by the social committee, headed by Mrs. Carl Burcaw, and candy canes, donated by the Farmers National Bank.

Placed beneath the Christmas trees were 30 dolls which the members had dressed for distribution among children.

The club presented gifts to Mrs. Raymond Stiver, director of the club, to C. F. Tomlinson, manager of the Memorial Building, and to Reece Faulkner, custodian.

The birthdays of Mrs. Nancy Cooper, Mrs. Maude Shears, Mrs. Constance Everett, Mrs. Ann Farmer, Mrs. Emma Ohl, Mrs. Emma Shope, Mrs. Esther Stoffer, Mrs. Carrie Gray, Mrs. Mae West, Charles Snelv, Mrs. Mabel Arnold, Frank Heston, Charles Roesler, Mrs. Lois Frantz and Mrs. Minnie Weldon were celebrated.

The program was furnished by pupils from Wallace Accordian

Classics in Alliance. Mrs. Max Wallace, director, is a daughter of Mrs. Pauline VanMeter, a club member.

A varied program of sacred and popular Christmas tunes were sung by members of the Salem Senior High School Robed Choir directed by F. Edwin Miller.

Mr. Burcaw presided at a short business session. He presented all the outgoing officers and committees and thanked them for their cooperation in carrying out the past year's activities. Mrs. Gray, first secretary, read minutes of the first two meetings of the club. Dancing was enjoyed after the meeting, with Donald Stelts calling for round and square dances. The next regular club meeting will be Jan. 25 in the Memorial Building.

Aussies Whip Italians; Keep Davis Cup

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australia shattered Italy's fondest dream today and won the Davis Cup when Neale Fraser and Roy Emerson whipped Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola in the challenge round doubles, 10-8, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4.

The victory sent the Aussies into a 3-0 lead and renders Wednesday's final two singles matches meaningless.

This marked the fifth time in the last six years Australia has won the cup. The Aussies have been involved in every challenge round since 1938 and have run up 10 victories.

In fact, this year was the first time since '38 that Australia and the United States haven't slugged it out for the top prize in amateur tennis.

The Italians, after being down 2-0, rebounded and defeated the United States in the interzone final two weeks ago.

This time, though, there was no miracle in the cards. They dropped the first two singles matches to Fraser and Rod Laver Monday.

Fraser and Emerson, playing steady if not spectacular tennis, grabbed the upper hand at the start and appeared to get stronger and more accurate as the match progressed.

Celtics Outlast Warriors, 119-115

By The Associated Press
The Boston Celtics meet the Warriors again tonight in Philadelphia in their private duel for the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division title.

The Celtics, in running their victory string to six straight Monday night at Boston, led all the way to win 119-115 and now lead the division race by two games.

In other games Monday night the Detroit Pistons down the Cincinnati Royals 137-132, the St. Louis Hawks scored an easy 133-112 decision over the Syracuse Nationals, and the New York Knickerbockers hung on for a 119-112 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers.

St. Louis now leads Cincinnati, Los Angeles and Detroit in the Western Division by 10 games.

Hoopie Picks 'Happy' Quakers to Win Tonight

Egad, friends, a few of our newspaper boys tried to foil Ol' Hoopie Monday by not delivering their papers, so if you were one of those customers who got left out yesterday, you missed my ratings of area basketball teams. Demand a refund!

For first place in Class AA I had a three-way tie between Salem, West Branch and East Liverpool. I like Salem because it has the same coach returning from the fine 1938-39 squad which was runner-up in the state to Cleveland East Tech.

West Branch proved it is deserving of its high rating by changing its name from Goshen Union, and East Liverpool rates no worse than a tie for first for the fine way it has situated itself along the Ohio River.

We would like to rate Youngstown University and Youngstown Chaney somewhere in our top 10 because they are both extremely well-coached clubs with outstanding defensive units, but we just don't feel that the schedules they play warrant our rating them ahead of these other teams.

In my predictions last week, I had three right and none wrong, although I did overrate the Alliance Aviators again, Har-rumph!

Here's the way I see the area games tonight and Wednesday:
TONIGHT
Salem 65, Cleveland West 57:
Coach Cabas says his team is one team's outstanding performer in its first six games.

Meistrup is one of three returning letterwinners on Coach Frank Topole's outfit. Two juniors who won letters last season as sophomores, are John Ostrowski, 6-2, and Ed Cielens, 6-0. The other two starters are Terry Travsky, 6-0 junior, and William Schwartzmann, 6-4 senior.

THE FIRST LINE substitutes are Bob Hill, 6-0 senior and Ernest Bay, 6-3 junior. Of the 12 men on the traveling squad, 10 are six feet or taller. The Quakers have run into bigger individuals this year, but the Cleveland West team has more overall height than even the giants from Akron Central who worked over the Quakers to the tune of 73-50.

West's latest victory was a 77-56 walling of Cleveland Holy Name last Friday. Ostrowski was the big scorer in that fray with 24 markers. Meistrup collected 18, Cielens 11 and Schwartzmann 8 in that fray.

PREVIOUSLY, West had chalked up victories over Cleveland South, 32-48; Cleveland Rhodes, 71-63; and Cleveland Lincoln, 45-46. Losses were at the hands of Cleveland West Tech 61-44, and Cleveland St. Ignatius, 65-51.

Cleveland West is currently the number three team in the West Senate of the Cleveland City League.

The Quakers, who have had a one-week layoff since defeating East Palestine 62-52, will attempt to climb above the 500 mark tonight for the first time this season. Salem has split even in four previous contests.

The reserve game tonight is slated to get underway at 7 p.m. with the varsity tilt to follow at about 8:30.

Major College Gridders Trounce Small Schools

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—As was expected, passing played a key role in Monday's third annual All-American Bowl, with the major school team tripping the small school players 25-12.

But the small school offense, directed by Paul Terhes of Bucknell, gave the crowd of 10,000 plenty of thrills before the major players iced their third straight victory.

Terhes matched his rival, Dick Norman of Stanford, completing 19 of 33 passes for 191 yards. However, he had four passes intercepted, with Warren Livingston of Arizona returning one 30 yards for a major school touchdown.

Norman pitched touchdown strikes of 41 and 33 yards to halfback Cal Bird of Kentucky. In all, Norman completed seven of 25 passes for 144 yards.

The small school players pulled to within 13-12 at the end of three quarters. The Purdue's Jim Tiller ran 26 yards for one score and Warren Livingston of Arizona intercepted a pass and ran 30 yards for the clincher.

Hartshorn Pads Scoring Lead

Rebels Boast Only Clean Slate in County

By DICK BRAUTIGAM

Coach Bing Newton's well-balanced Fairfield-Waterford outfit is the only remaining undefeated cage squad in Columbiana County.

Wellsville and Beaver Local both tasted defeat for the first time last week. The Bengals were victims of a big upset when Freedom, Pa., nailed them with a 63-62 setback. The Beavers also had their win streak halted by an out-of-state foe, Newell, W. Va., pulled the trick on Beaver Local by a score of 72-58.

Fairfield-Waterford was not in action last week and is not scheduled to go to the post again until Jan. 6. The Rebels have not come up with a consistent big scorer this year, but when one boy has fallen down there has always been someone to come through and pick up the slack.

TOM MESSENGER is leading the Rebels with 58 points in five games for an 11.6 average. Clarence Kannell, who has increased his point production in each contest, has crept up to within two points of Messenger's total. Kannell is averaging 11.2 points per game.

The top scorer in the county is still East Palestine's ace, Jim Hartshorn. Hartshorn was held to his lowest output of the season last week by Salem, but the 15 markers he tallied in that tilt increased his comfortable margin over runner-up Ben Giannone of Salineville to 49.

The best average in the county belongs to East Liverpool's talented Kenny Cunningham. The clever, sharp shooting senior is averaging 27 points for the Pottery's first two contests. The only other two cagers in the county averaging over 20 points per game are Hartshorn, 25.2, and Wellsville's Bob Kiggins, 23.6.

CUNNINGHAM WILL be in action twice this week in the East Liverpool Holiday Tournament. The Pottery's play Midland, Pa., on Thursday night and then either Massillon or Marietta on Friday.

The only other Columbiana team slated to go to the post twice this week is the Salem Quakers of Coach John Cabas. The Quakers, who play the toughest schedule in the area this season, play host to Cleveland West tonight and then entertain unbeaten Akron North on Friday.

United and Beaver Local will clash on the Beavers' home court Friday. These bitter rivals always engage in a hard-fought battle no matter which team happens to be up or down.

ONE OF THE BEST games in the area figures to be at Columbiana Wednesday when the Clippers, probably the strongest Class A team in the district, take on Canfield, a good Class AA outfit.

Leetonia, fresh from a surprise victory over United last week, will be gunning for its second straight win Wednesday against invading Salineville.

Lisbon will try again for its first win Friday when it travels to Marlinton.

Jim Allen Sets Scoring Pace

Springfield Local Star Has 72 Points

Four Turnpike Conference teams will be in action this week.

Warren St. Mary's and Springfield Local will clash in a conference tilt on Friday while Canfield and United are both carded in non-loop games. Canfield plays at Columbiana Wednesday night and a United travels to Beaver Local on Friday.

Springfield Local's Jim Allen wedged his way into the scoring lead last week. Allen vaulted from fifth place with a 12-point performance against Bessemer Mohawk, while the other contenders were taking the week off. Allen has 72 points in six games while runner-up Tom Norton of Warren St. Mary's is just one marker behind with 71 in six contests.

Also hot on the trail of Allen are Canfield's Bill Alcott with 70 markers, United's Jerry Schaffer with 67 and West Branch's Dick Loudon with 64.

Loudon's 16-point average is the best in the conference. He and teammate Tom Baxter are both listed among the top 10 scorers in the conference despite the fact that West Branch has played only four games, fewer than any other team in the league. The Warriors of Coach Joe Tucker are also the only undefeated team in the Turnpike Conference.

Bill Brown Leads 41-14 Assault

North All-Stars Overwhelm South

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bill Brown of Illinois was a tireless workhorse. Bobby Fischer of Nebraska scintillated with his darting dashes. Henry Oppermann of Penn State had glue on his fingers and Tom Blanda of Army threw bullseyes from his quarterback spot.

Those factors, combined with a rugged defense, proved the difference as the North All-Stars overwhelmed the South, 41-14, in the 13th annual Shrine football game in the Orange Bowl Monday night.

South led at the intermission 14-6, thanks to a pass from Bobby Skelton of Alabama which caromed off a goalpost into the arms of John Schoeder of North Carolina, and to a 36-yard touchdown run by Skelton with an interception of a Blanda pass.

North had scored the first time it got the ball, marching 62 yards in 13 plays. Northwestern's Mike Stock rolled over four yards for the touchdown.

North power began to assert itself in the second half, however. Brown — voted North's most valuable player — ripped steadily at the South line. Little Fischer was a wraith as he eeked his way for huge yardage. Stock drove for big gains, and the evereffective Blanda and Oppermann combination clicked for vast yardage.

Fischer gave a hint of what was to come when he raced 66 yards with the opening second-half kickoff, nearly getting away. The North clicked offensively with

Eagles Win NFL Championship Tilt From Packers, 17-13

Sellout Crowd of 67,325 Witnesses Hard-Fought Battle

Norm Van Brocklin's Passing, Ted Dean's Running Spark Victory

By GEORGE ESPER
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles have their first National Football League title in 11 years and they did it by coming up with the big stopper on defense, clutch passing by Norm Van Brocklin and rookie Ted Dean's 58-yard kickoff return on a newly installed play.

The Eagles, a Cinderella team which rose from last in 1958 to second last year and the Eastern Conference crown this season came from behind Monday for the eighth time in 12 games this season to defeat Green Bay 17-13 for the world championship.

For Coach Buck Shaw and Van Brocklin, both retiring, it marked the greatest moment in their long and colorful football careers. Sports writers voted Van Brocklin, 34, the outstanding player of the game.

Shaw, 31, who installed the play which led to the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter, said after the game: "You can't go any further than this." It was Shaw's first title in 12 years of coaching professional football.

"The defense did a great job," said Shaw. "They got the job done when they had to."

For Green Bay, a last-place team like the Eagles just two seasons ago, it was a day of heartbreak. The final gun sounded with the Packers on the Eagles' 9-yard line where iron-man Chuck Bednarik, who played outstandingly for almost 60 minutes, had stopped fullback Jim Taylor.

Largest Paid Crowd

The Packers, the Western Conference champions, twice led in the game watched by a sellout crowd of 67,325 which paid the largest game in NFL championship history. The game was televised nationally.

Green Bay led 6-0 on field goals of 20 and 23 yards by Paul Hornung but the Eagles struck like lightning in the second quarter, going from their own 43 for a touchdown on just two pass plays.

Van Brocklin, a 12-year veteran who played in four previous championships while with Los Angeles, connected with Tommy McDonald for 22 yards, then hit the slippery slot back again with a 35-yard touchdown strike. Bobby Walston added the extra point to put the Eagles ahead 7-6.

The Eagles increased the lead to 10-6 when Walston booted a 15-yard field goal set up by Van Brocklin passes of 41 yards to Pete Retzlaff and 22 yards to Dean.

The real clincher, however, came after the Packers had taken a 13-10 lead on a seven-yard TD pass from Bart Starr to Max McGee in the fourth quarter. That was Dean's five-yard touchdown run which he set up himself with a kickoff return to the Packers' 38 right after Green Bay's final score.

Installed New Play
The kickoff return play was a new one Shaw installed last week after receiving scouting reports from assistants.

"Only for that runback (by Dean) we probably would have held them," said Packers coach Vince Lombardi. "That gave the Eagles the big lift and we couldn't stop them. Dean certainly had great blocking on the big run."

Shaw indicated that the turning point of the game was in the first quarter when Philadelphia held the Packers on the Eagles' 5-yard line and a few moments later when they halted a drive on the 8, forcing the Packers to settle for three points on the 20-yard field goal by Hornung.

The Eagles, in winning their first world title since they defeated Los Angeles in 1949, received $5,116 for each player. The losers share was $3,105 a man. Gross receipts, including radio and television rights, were $747,876. The record for the winning players' share was $4,718 by the Baltimore Colts in 1958.

Gene Tunney Urges Ingemar to Have Brain Examined

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Gene Tunney says Ingemar Johansson shouldn't fight again unless he's had a test to determine whether there was brain damage from his last bout.

Floyd Patterson won the heavyweight boxing title from Sweden's Johansson earlier this year with a knockout punch of terrific force. The two met in a rematch early next year.

Tunney, former world champion, told an interviewer that an encephalogram would show whether there actually was any harm done.

"I never saw a man knocked out so hard and so long," Tunney said. "He must have been unconscious for 30 minutes."

Tunney is here from New York for a Christmas visit with a son, Varick, stationed at nearby March Air Force Base.

Bill Bruton, Detroit's new center fielder, batted above his .276 career average in his last four seasons with Milwaukee.

NFL Drafts College Grid Stars Today

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League dips into the 1960 college player grab-bag today with the new Minnesota Vikings picking first and Baltimore, San Francisco and Cleveland each getting two first-round choices.

The 14 clubs will pick 280 players in 20 rounds and then hurry into to compete with the American Football League in a players' market. The AFL drafted earlier this month. Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the NFL at that time appealed to collegians to wait for the NFL draft before signing any contracts.

The teams draft in reverse order of their 1960 final standings, going from last to first. Ties are decided by the toss of a coin.

All college players whose original class has graduated—or will graduate this year—are eligible for the draft. A player's college affiliation is according to registration record. A player who registered at a college but dropped out would be listed from that college.

Springfield Players Dominate Top Ten List in AHL Scoring

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Sweeney of Springfield continues to lead the American Hockey League's individual scoring race with eight of the league-leading Indians holding spots in the top 10.

Only Buffalo's high-scoring duo of Phil Maloney and Larry Wilson has been able to crack Springfield's domination of the scoring race, led by Sweeney with 51 points.

Maloney is second with 46 points on 21 goals and 25 assists, two points in front of Wilson, who has 14 goals and 30 assists. Sweeney has scored 19 times while picking up 32 assists, league statistics showed today.

Springfield's Art Stratton, the circuit's top assist man with 34, is fourth in scoring with 43 points, one more than teammate Harry Pidhirny, So. 1 in goals with 23.

Springfield's Marcel Paille remains the top goalie. He has shut out the opposition five times and has allowed only 88 goals for a low average of 2.67 a game.

Lombardi Says He'll Stick With Packers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi is hopping mad over persistent reports that he plans to leave the Packers and succeed Jim Lee Howell as head mentor of the New York Giants.

"I'll be going back to Green Bay," Lombardi snapped Monday after the Packers had lost 17-13 to the Philadelphia Eagles in the National Football League championship.

Lombardi, a former offense coach with the Giants, has three years to run on a five-year Packers contract.

Rash of Holiday Basketball Tournaments Now Underway

NEW YORK (AP)—The annual ECAC Holiday Basketball Tournament got under way in Madison Square Garden today with Ohio State in the favorite's role.

The Buckeyes (6-0) are one of the four undefeated teams in the event. The others are St. Bonaventure (7-0), St. John's of New York (6-0) and Providence (7-0).

Ohio State, top team in the country, doesn't get into action until tonight against Seton Hall (4-1). St. John's opened the Madison Square Garden quadruple-header against Providence. Then followed St. Bonaventure-St. Joseph's of Philadelphia (4-1) and Penn (4-1) Utah (6-2).

The four winners go into the semifinals Thursday night. The finals are scheduled Saturday. Cincinnati, last year's winner, is not entered.

Ohio State Coach Fred Taylor said he was not pleased with the progress of his club.

Seton Hall Has Secret Defense for Lucas

The rolling snowball of holiday basketball tournaments nears its full momentum tonight and most of the top college teams are in the action that will spread from coast-to-coast within the next two days.

Kansas State and Oklahoma got things rolling with victories Monday night in the Big Eight tourney while Santa Clara and San Francisco came off winners in the West Coast Athletic Conference affair.

This afternoon in New York's Madison Square Garden, a pair of unbeaten, seventh-ranked St. John's and Providence, face each other, and third-ranked St. Bonaventure takes on St. Joseph's (Pa.). The Bonnies also are undefeated.

Tonight, in another Garden doubleheader, Utah plays Penn and Ohio State, the nation's top-ranked college team and defending NCAA champion, plays Seton Hall.

Royals' Win Wilfong Suffers Broken Rib

CINCINNATI (AP)—A broken rib has knocked Wilfong out of the pro basketball Cincinnati Royals' lineup.

Wilfong said the injury came in a game against Detroit Christmas night when he drove toward the basket but crashed against backboard supports.

Although he continued in the game, X-rays Monday showed a broken rib. There was no indication when he could return to play.

Shoff of Greenford is 2nd

McDonald's Patterson Leads I-C Scoring

All Inter-County League cage squads are resting up until after the first of the year at which time a mad scramble for the loop title is expected to get underway.

The loop looks to be better balanced this year than ever before with four of the six teams given a good chance to grab all the marbles.

Defending champion Lowellville, Fairfield-Waterford, McDonald and Greenford figure to be a little bit too tough this season for the other two members, North Lima and Western Reserve.

McDonald defeated Greenford, 43-38, in the only league game played thus far. However, the Bobcats of Coach Jerry Suss have improved tremendously since that contest. Greenford gave powerful Class AA West Branch a tough fight before bowing 59-56 two weeks ago. Veteran Clyde Shoff has been getting plenty of help from Gary Wilt and Bob Cook and the Bobcats figure to improve as the season progresses.

Lowellville has lost to only West Branch, 52-48, and Bessemer Mohawk, 50-57, in six outings; and McDonald's six games are marked only by a 54-50 setback at the hands of Mineral Ridge.

Fairfield-Waterford is the only team in the loop who has yet to taste defeat. The Rebels have racked up five straight wins. Coach Bing Newton has six of his first eight men back from last season and the experience these boys gained while taking their knocks last year is paying off.

A. B. Chandler Raps Majors' Expansion

VERSALLES, Ky. (AP) — Former baseball Commissioner A.B. Chandler today called the major league expansion plans another step on the road to destruction of the national pastime.

The owners treated coldly a proposal he made 10 years ago for orderly expansion, the two-time Kentucky governor and former U.S. senator recalled.

"They have failed to take into account what was coming, and now they're going about it piecemeal," he said in an interview.

"We tried to get them to plan for expansion to 10 teams in each league — maybe 12 if necessary — and then eventually breaking up into three leagues. One would be in the East, one in the central section and one in the western United States."

Chandler who was dropped as commissioner in 1951, said it would have been better to have taken in the old Pacific Coast League, as was proposed at one time.

"Baseball must have continuous rivalries to thrive, with opponents as close to each other as possible," he said.

New teams of castoff players aren't going to win games or draw crowds, Chandler said. "The only thing this paying of $75,000 per player for players past their prime, castoffs and the like is going to do is cause the new owners to go broke unless they have unlimited funds."

Chamberlain Sets Record-Breaking Pace in NBA

NEW YORK (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain continues to pile up points for the Philadelphia Warriors at a record-breaking pace in the National Basketball Association. Chamberlain's total of 1,140 points is the most ever for a player in the league in 31 games.

Although Chamberlain leads by only eight points over Elgin Baylor of Los Angeles, he has two extra games to play. Chamberlain has played 31 to Baylor's total of 1,132 in 33 games. Wilt still has averaged 36.8 points per game to Baylor's 34.3, through games of Dec. 25.

Oscar Robertson, Cincinnati's ace, has 989 points.

Barney Cable of Syracuse has made the highest percentage of floor shots with 93 of 188 for .495. Bailey Howell of Detroit and Robertson are tied for second at .472.

Tri-County Quintets Play Non-League Foes

The Tri-County League standings will remain unchanged again this week as three of the teams in the loop are idle until after the holidays and the other five are slated to tangle with independent foes.

Coach Rich Berryman's Columbiana quintet plays host to Canfield on Wednesday and Len Batch's Leetonia Bears will be in action the same night at home against Salineville.

On Friday, winless Lisbon travels to Marlington; defending Tri-County champion Minerva has some getting-even to do with invading Carrollton; and Louisville will entertain Canton Glenwood.

Minerva has a particular interest in winning its game with Carrollton because it was that club which spoiled the Lions' perfect record during the 1959-60 season.

If East Palestine's Jim Hartshorn can keep up the fast scoring pace he has set through the first five games, he looks like a cinch to cop the scoring title in the Tri-County League this season. The 6-1 senior dead eye has tallied 126 points, 53 more than runner-up Don Miller of Minerva.

Hartshorn is averaging 25.2 points per game and is the only man in the loop with a better than 20 average.

THE U-2, A TYPE OF JET-POWERED GLIDER, flew timid birdman Francis Gary Powers into the eager arms of propaganda-hungry Russia on the eve of the Paris summit. The high-flying U-2, supposedly beyond the range of Red anti-aircraft rockets, was interrupted by rocket or engine failure in its reconnaissance "overflight" at Sverdlovsk and turned up in pieces in Moscow. The plane's highly successful five-year spying program was exposed and Powers became the first man since Nathan Hale publicly acknowledged by his country as a spy. This incident and the bungled U.S. cover-up attempt were a major diplomatic defeat.

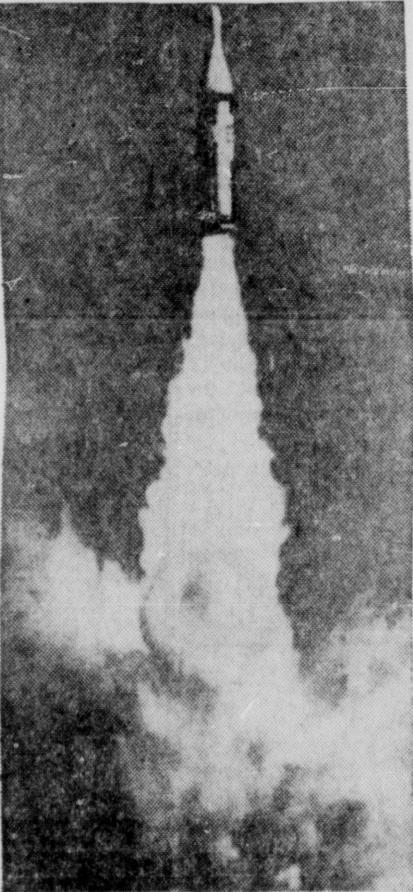

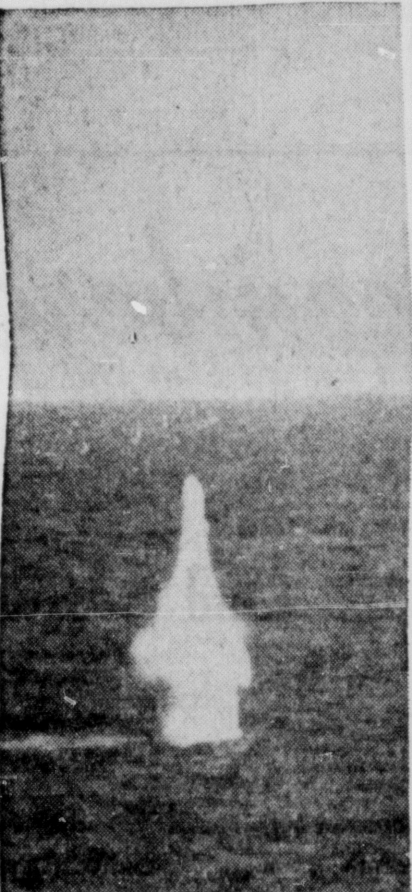

FOR IT WAS K, K, K as the Russian bully boy strode the world stage from Moscow to Paris to New York, acting his big part with a flourish. A ranting, insulting Khrushchev collapsed the Paris summit, above, in a fit of anger over the U-2. This mood dissolved into affability as he bear-hugged Cuba's brother-in-arms Castro at the New York U.N. meeting. He finished up with table-pounding act (fist and shoe).

THE BIG STORIES OF '60

JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY—aged 43, 27 years younger than his predecessor—defeated Vice President Nixon with the smallest margin of popular votes in this century to win the presidency. Kennedy, who said during the arduous campaign that he would bring marked change to the White House, won in an election heavily weighted with imponderables. Any of several factors could be cited as decisive in his victory—his Roman Catholic religion, the Negro vote, Lyndon B. Johnson's campaign role. In any event, Kennedy approached the most powerful post in the Free World in challenging circumstances.

AMERICA DEVELOPED HER NEWEST and probably greatest deterrent to surprise attack, the submarine-launched Polaris, intermediate range ballistic missile. It makes the sub a moving, nearly undetectable, launching pad for the nuclear weapons. Ninety per cent of Russia's cities are vulnerable.

DICK AND PAT NIXON were tense as returns Election Day indicated the winning trend to Kennedy. But the vice president emerged from the voting in better shape than most defeated candidates. He seems the only bridge between the reactionary (Goldwater) and liberal (Rockefeller) wings of the party and as such its best hope for '64. President Eisenhower bowed out of active political life with a flourish of 11th hour campaigning for Nixon. He remained the Republicans' most compelling figure by far even though not quite able to transfer this image to the vice president. The election was not a personal repudiation.

THE RED SEA, NILE RIVER and the Mediterranean Sea (top) are all shown in this remarkable photograph transmitted from space to receiving station on earth by the Tiros weather satellite. The 270-pound U.S. satellite, one of the most complex electronic packages orbited, gave an inkling of future eyes in the sky which would not only relay weather information but also be military observation stations.

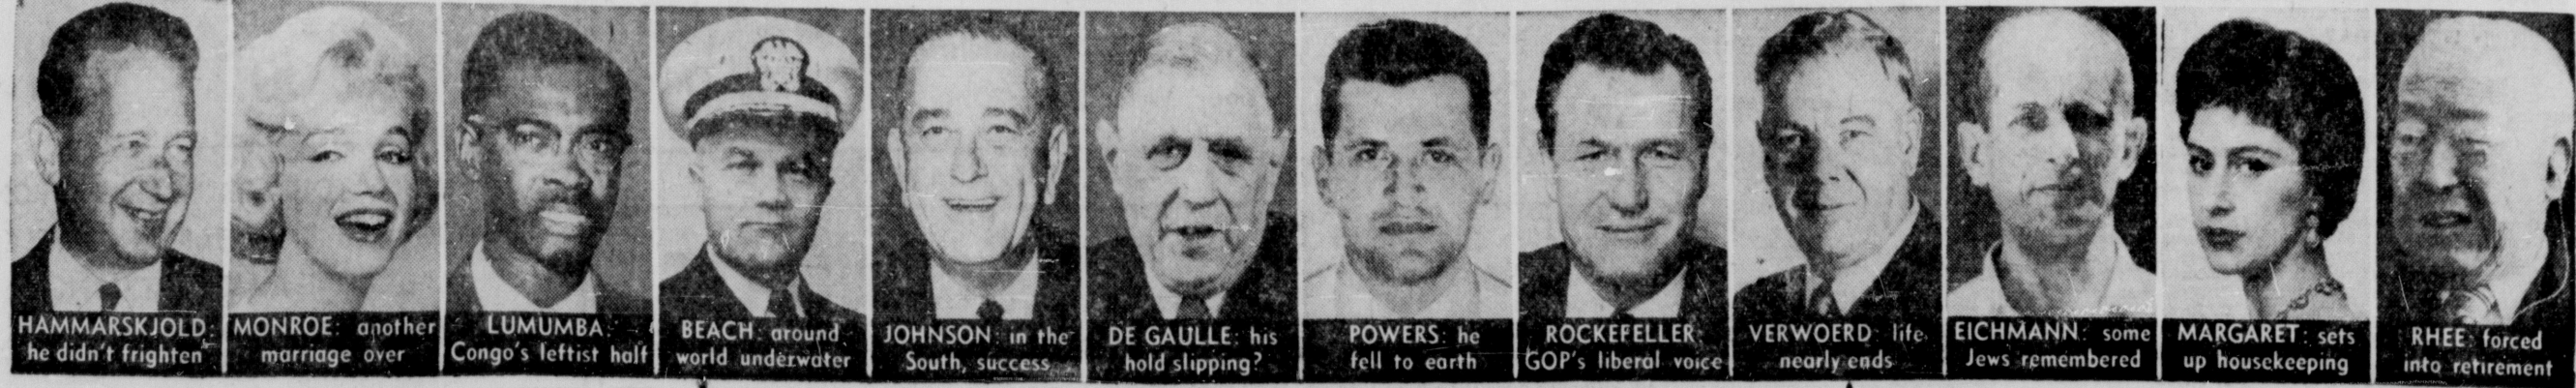

EARTHQUAKES, TIDAL WAVES, FLOODS, volcanic eruptions, disease and starvation tortured the people of Chile in a catastrophe of Biblical proportions. Five thousand persons were killed and 500,000 made homeless. Whole cities collapsed, islands vanished and volcanoes were born in the most severe quakes ever recorded. Here dazed survivors pick through the rubble of Lota looking for their possessions. Nature's assault on Chile was a powerful message that her forces are not yet subject to man. Rebuilding has only begun.

MOVEMENT TO ABOLISH capital punishment was given impetus when Caryl Whittier Chessman was executed in the gas chamber of San Quentin prison, Calif., at 10:12 a.m., May 2, 1960, 12 years after his conviction for kidnap-rape. In that 12 years, Chessman wrote four books and made scores of appeals to various courts, including 16 to the U.S. Supreme Court. After it was over a six-foot cross by U.S. Consulate in Basle, Switzerland, said: "Peace to Chessman's soul, but none to his executioners."

MOST DRAMATIC NEWS PICTURE of the year shows 18-year-old Japanese fascist Otaya Yamaguchi after he pulled a foot-long Samurai sword from the chest of mortally wounded Inejiro Asanuma, a socialist leader. The assassination on the stage of Tokyo's Hibiya Hall made a martyr out of Asanuma and advanced his pro-Communist, anti-American crusade.

WOMAN HELD IN STABBING

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 25-year-old Columbus man died Monday night after being stabbed with a kitchen knife. Police homicide squad chief Jerry Ryan said 18-year-old Bertha May Hunter told officers she stabbed George Junior Horton after he made advances. She was held for investigation. The stabbing occurred at a private residence just a few doors away from Horton's home.

The Grassroots Ambassadors - - -

How many Americans have ever had the opportunity to mix bread dough in a wooden tub, pitch hay 100 miles above the Arctic Circle, press duck in Germany, round up reindeer in Lapland?

Those are some of the experiences of young men and women from rural America who took part in this year's International Farm Youth Exchange, sponsored by the National 4-H Club Foundation. More than 100 of them are back after six months with farm families of foreign lands. They shared their homes, their food, their work and their fun. Gone home also are the exchangees from 60 participating foreign countries who came to see the way the American farmer lives and works.

In the 12 years of the program's existence, more than 18,000 families throughout the world have taken these men and women into their homes and their hearts. They call themselves "dirt diplomats" and they carry a message of friendliness and hope which supersedes national barriers.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: People are no good. It took me 61 years to find it out.

I built this business from the ground up. I have 175 employees and about 30 per cent are men, the rest are women. For Thanksgiving I arranged with one of the country's finest turkey growers to send 175 choice birds. They were packed individually and sent to each of my employees. This cost $840.

Do you know how many people thanked me? Four. That's how many. Two wrote notes and the other two bumped into me in the hall. I'm so burned up I've decided never to go out of my way to be nice to people again. This whole thing has made me so mad I've had a headache every day for two weeks.

I don't want any advice. I just want you to know what people are really like. — SMARTENED UP.

Dear Smartened: One of the hazards of writing to me is that people sometimes get advice even when they don't ask for it. If you want to find gratitude, look in the dictionary. The reward that comes from giving is the warm feeling it gives the giver. Don't look for satisfaction beyond that. If people seem ungrateful — so what? Now forget about it or those birds are going to cost a lot more than $840. They'll make you sick.

North Benton

The 2nd primary class of North Benton Presbyterian Sunday School with Mrs. Frances Tennifoss and Mrs. Nina Wayne as hostesses held its Christmas party at the church, Tuesday.

Youth Fellowship went Christmas caroling Friday night and then attended a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Martin. Miss JoAnn Silliman's Sunday School Class held its Christmas party at the church, Saturday. Miss Susan Post assisted Miss Silliman.

A Christmas family gathering was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Flickinger Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Beal, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Kneiseley of Beloit, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Jones and Mrs. Amy Turner of Beloit attended.

Mr. William Vogel of Deerfield was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Jones Tuesday.

Mrs. Burl Hartzell spent last week caring for a sick aunt, Mrs. Getrude Sankey of Alliance.

Sunday callers of Miss Janet Bradley, home from hospital from her recent accident, were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Weingart of Hartsville and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nobis of Canton.

Damascus

Fidelis Class of the Friends Church was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Phillips Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whiteleather were co-hosts. Mrs. Virgil Cobbs and Mrs. Robert Bell will have charge of the "Oriental News" subscriptions. A gift from the class was presented the teacher, Dr. Walter R. Williams. Two baskets of food were given to worthy families. Officers elected were president, Willard Close; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Donald Hoffman. E Double T Club was entertained at a turkey dinner Wednesday. Mrs. William Carner was awarded the special prize. Mrs. Al Bergstrand will receive the group Jan. 20, 1961.

The Christmas parties arranged for Brownie Scout Troops 4 and 6 were canceled owing to inclement weather conditions. Troop 4 will meet on Jan. 4, and Troop 6 will meet on Jan. 11.

Members of the Friends Youth Fellowship met at the church Wednesday and arranged baskets of fruit for patients in the Valley Road Rest Home.

Office Hazard

Dear Ann: I can't go anywhere else with this problem and I can't sign my name. You'll know why in a minute. I'm 29, happily married and have a fine family.

Two years ago I took this job as representative for a national organization. I like my work, make good money and there's a future here if I stay. The trouble is the branch manager's wife is after me.

This woman is 41, has plenty of money and time on her hands. She tells me her children don't need her any more, her husband bores her and she must have an outside interest to keep her stimulated.

I work at the office two evenings a week and she always seems to know which evenings they are. She shows up and sits on my desk for hours at a time and I can't do my work.

I'm scared to death her husband may get wind of this. My wife kids me a little but she has no idea the woman is making serious passes. I don't want to leave my job. What shall I do? — WITHOUT ANSWER.

Dear Without: Tell this woman that she's threatening your job and jeopardizing her marriage. If you make it abundantly clear that she's also wasting her time she'd be a moron to continue the chase.

When you work evenings invite your wife to come along "just for her company." It's worth the price of a sitter. If the femme fatale bumps into your wife two evenings in a row, she won't come down a third time. I guarantee it.

Outdated Photos

Dear Ann: My son is 27 and divorced. His first wife was lovely but they never got along. Three months ago he married again.

I have some beautiful pictures of my son's first wedding. They cost a lot to panel and frame. Should I keep them hung up in my home? I loved his first wife very much and I hardly know this second one. Please tell me what to do. I am — LOST.

Dear Lost: Don't display wedding pictures that no longer have meaning. It will be embarrassing to your son and his present wife if you continue to keep the old pictures on your wall. Remove them please.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.
